What goes into making the finest copper cookware in the world?

Style

The Falk Culinaire collection is quite simply the finest copper cookware that money can buy.

Superb individual pans, each combining the beauty of copper, the durability of stainless steel and the strength of cast iron.

Together it's a product range of unmatched style and quality.

The simple aesthetic that runs through the Falk range unites form and function in a distinctive and classically elegant set of designs.

Copper conductivity spreads heat quickly and evenly, making each pan highly efficient. So you're not just looking smart, you're cooking smart.

Simplicity

Every Falk Culinair pan is a crafted item, precision engineered in Belgium to the most exacting standards.

The stylish 2.5mm copper bodies are fused with their durable stainless steel inner linings in a unique high pressure bonding process.
